Mr Thomas Burns has asked:

To ask the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the number of new IT projects being developed across the Civil Service; (ii) the purpose of each project; and (iii) the anticipated cost of each project.

ANSWER

The Northern Ireland Civil Service (NICS) is currently developing 65 IT projects. This does not include projects currently underway within NDPB'S, notably health and education.

A list of these projects in Departmental order, together with their purpose and anticipated cost, has been placed in the Library.
