

AQW 5993/09

Samuel Gardiner (Upper Bann) has asked:

To ask the Minister of Education, pursuant to her answer to AQW 5184/09, (i) to name; (ii) to list all the classes; and (iii) to provide the number of pupils in primary schools where composite classes have been in existence in the Southern Education and Library Board, over the last five years.

For written answer on 19 March 2009

Note:

1. Composite classes are those classes where children from two curriculum year groups are taught together.

In some instances however, children from different year groups may be taught as a single year group.

An example might be where a child from abroad is 'held back' a year, so that they can access the curriculum at a level appropriate to their previous educational experience. Some instances of these are included in the figures provided.

2. Figures relate to children in year 1 - 7 classes and include children in mainstream classes and special units within schools.

Note:

1. Composite classes are those classes where children from two curriculum year groups are taught together.

In some instances however, children from different year groups may be taught as a single year group.

An example might be where a child from abroad is 'held back' a year, so that they can access the curriculum at a level appropriate to their previous educational experience. Some instances of these are included in the figures provided.

2. Figures relate to children in year 1 - 7 classes and include children in mainsteam classes and special units within schools.
